Avigilon CCTV Packages

Do you need a CCTV system, but have no idea which system to buy?

The implications of buying the wrong systems can be costly both in money and time so we are here to help.

Security Group is an independent company that specialises in finding the right CCTV systems for our customers. We partner with Avigilon who constantly review the latest technologies and products on offer to ensure that we provide the best solutions to our customers.

The three packages below are an excellent starting point for any residential or small business CCTV System. They include the H5M range of cameras, which are the industry's smallest HD dome, they can be placed indoors or outdoors for all your monitoring needs, along with the all-in-one appliance from Avigilon that brings edge intelligence and built-in ACC software to organisations. Also included in the packages is the ability to get connectivity via applications on mobile devices such as IOS and Android allowing you to monitor your system wherever you are in the world.

Each CCTV package will be supplied, installed and maintained by Security Group.
